March 21

THE PRESIDENT, NDAC COMMITTEE AND MEMBERS

The first two months of 2014 has certainly flown past and the year is in full swing. The club hosted the SASACC meeting held on the 29th January 2014, which revolved about future development in the angling fraternity. Training, development and workshops of anglers will in future be required to develop all facets of angling from club to national level.

The Onderberg Specie Bonanza has secured 24 boats, which will compete during March at Ponta Barra, Mozambique for the record R400 000 prize money. This year's prize money has increased with R150 000 from last year. Congratulations to Gustav and his very competent team for securing these fantastic prizes.

The 2014 Inhaca Challenge organization is in full swing and entries and prize money seems to be on par with last year's event. Please ensure you forward your entries to avoid disappointment. To Gavin and his team many thanks for all the hard work in preparing for this year's challenge. Reduced hotel accommodations rates have been negotiated very successfully and this year rates are on par with 2010 rates.

Gary Larkan and other club members fished the SADSAA billfish classic comp held at Richards's bay last week. Many congrats Glen Coertzen on releasing a short bill spearfish on the practice day.

Glen has also been chosen as angler of the month on releasing this special fish. Well done Glen.

The club is looking for members to represent NDAC at this year's May OET and All-Inland competition to be held at Sodwana during May 2014. Should you be interested please contact myself or any committee member.

Again a friendly reminder to those who have not paid their annual NDAC subs, please pay this at your earliest convenience.

To those members fishing and the committee members of the Onderberg Specie comp, tight lines and travel safe.

Yours in angling
Edwin Freeman
NDAC Chairman

News Snippets / Nuus brokkies:

Monday, March 17: St. Patrick's Day 2014

Saint Patrick's Day or the Feast of Saint Patrick (Irish: Lá Fhéile Pádraig, "the Day of the Festival of Patrick") is a cultural and religious holiday celebrated on 17 March. It is named after Saint Patrick (c. AD 385–461), the most commonly recognized of the patron saints of Ireland.

Saint Patrick's Day was made an official Christian feast day in the early seventeenth century and is observed by the Catholic Church, the Anglican Communion (especially the Church of Ireland), the Eastern Orthodox Church and Lutheran Church. The day commemorates Saint Patrick and the arrival of Christianity in Ireland, as well as celebrates the heritage and culture of the Irish in general. Celebrations generally involve public parades and festivals, céilíthe, and the wearing of green attire or shamrocks. Christians also attend church services, and the Lenten restrictions on eating and drinking alcohol are lifted for the day, which has encouraged and propagated the holiday's tradition of alcohol consumption.

Saint Patrick's Day is a public holiday in the Republic of Ireland, Northern Ireland, Newfoundland and Labrador and Montserrat. It is also widely celebrated by the Irish diaspora around the world; especially in Britain, Canada, the United States, Argentina, Australia and New Zealand.

Friday, March 21: Human Rights Day 2014

The Sharpeville massacre occurred on 21 March 1960, at the police station in the South African township of Sharpeville in Transvaal (today part of Gauteng).

After a day of demonstrations against the Pass laws, a crowd of about 5,000 to 7,000 black protesters went to the police station. The South African police opened fire on the crowd, killing 69 people. Sources disagree as to the behavior of the crowd; some state that the crowd was peaceful, while others state that the crowd had been hurling stones at the police, and that the shooting started when the crowd started advancing toward the fence around the police station.

In present-day South Africa, 21 March is celebrated as a public holiday in honour of human rights and to commemorate the Sharpeville massacre
